Although John Blanchette had trouble hearing and seeing the action at Hellgate's first outdoor assembly, he exhibited his "spirit" robustly.

HOMECOMING '72

Color, spirit and blasting brass bands created a merry celebration as Heligate and Sentinel combined troops in joint Homecoming festivities.

The scintillating ceremony of royalty crowning opened the joyful festivities, followed by a downtown parade and deafening outdoor pep assembly in Bonner Park. Both schools' frenzied bands, bouncing cheerleaders and students bodies created the evening pep rally.

Both schools dumped their opponents in a football double-header at the fairgrounds. The victories were followed by a joint dance to the electronic music of Devlin, MacDonald and Scales.

The theme of the merrymaking was "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About High School But Were Afraid to Ask," which obviously was the decision of Stupid (oops) Student Council.

HONORS

Top Twenty

In addition to possessing the ability to count to twenty, persons qualifying were those whose grade point averages were among the twenty highest in the senior class. This grade average was the accumulation of the first seven academic semesters. These students were the top 5 per cent of the 1972-73 graduating class.

What were you doing June 4-10 the summer of '72? If you were a delegate to Boys or Girls State you were doing your thing as representative of Hellgate. Carroll College was the site for the girls and Western Montana College in Dillon the boys.

Delegates were given an experience and insight into the workings of government. Mock conventions elected candidates to various offices.

Interested juniors applied. The faculty then voted on those students who they felt would best represent Hellgate through qualities of leadership, responsibility and involvement. Juniors had the final vote determining delegates and alternates.

Natalie Simmons, delegate, ran unsuccessfully for mayor of one of the imaginary cities of Girls State, but was later appointed Fire Chief of the City.

St. Mark's Cathedral draws both people and pigeons.

Enjoying a quiet meal is Page's Italian "father" Signor Palatini and her two "sisters", Adriana and Antonietta.

Each night the boat pilots dock their boats in a gondola parking lot.

Arriving at school at 8 in the morning, 6 days a week.

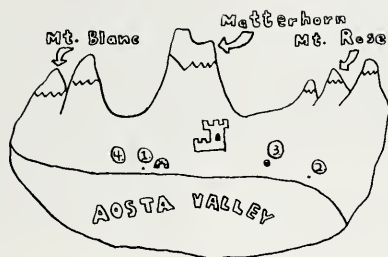

These were just a few of the adjustments Page Goode had to make as she journeyed to Italy as this year's foreign exchange student. A small island, about 15 minutes away from Venice by boat, was her home.

Her Italian "family's" name is Palatini. Three sisters are in the family—Anna 25; Adriana, 23, and Antoinette, 17.

The extracurricular activities at school are basketball and politics. Writing to the Halberd, Page said her home life is not very different from her U.S. way of life except for the language difference.

2. Saint Vincent is the little town in which my family lives.
3. In this little village, Autey St. Andre, all American AFS students stay for two weeks to learn Italian before they meet their new Italian families.
4. This is the Aosta Valley. During the empire of Julius Caesar, the Romans needed to pass through this valley in order to conquer France. The ancient inhabitants, large, strong soldiers called Salessi, did not like having the Romans in their territory. Thus they went to the top of the mountains and threw large rocks on the Roman troops. They were able to stop the huge army for two years.

I wanted you to know about my little valley so that you can understand why I love it so much. But you also know how much I like Montana, its inhabitants, my new family and of course Hellgate.

In my residence here, not only has my English improved, but also my personality. I have participated in almost all aspects of the American way of life and my understanding of people has increased. Thank you for teaching me so many things, and I hope you have learned something from me.

Brain Bowl

Though the halftime score was 70-70, Hellgate Brain Bowl was downed by Spokane's Gonzaga Prep in its first match of the year, 235-95. In the past, the team has qualified for the quarterfinals and semifinals of the competition.

Members were chosen on an "instant" knowledge basis by Advisor John Koelbel. Members of the 1972-73 team were Captain Jan Hulla, David Hutchison, Donald Gisselbeck, Ray Miller and Alternate Paul Crowley.

Because of her qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism, Carol Holden was chosen as the Good Citizen for the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was chosen by both Hellgate seniors and the faculty and she received a Good Citizen pin and certificate. As recipient, she became eligible for the state and national Good Citizenship contests.

Betty Crocker Award

Paul Crowley had the distinction of being Hellgate's first male recipient of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award. The contest is sponsored by General Mills and 1973 was the first year in which boys were eligible to participate. Paul was eligible for further state and national honors.

Quill; something made from or like the quill of a feather, as a pen for writing.

Scroll; a roll of paper or parchment: hence, a writing: schedule: list: also, a draft; outline.

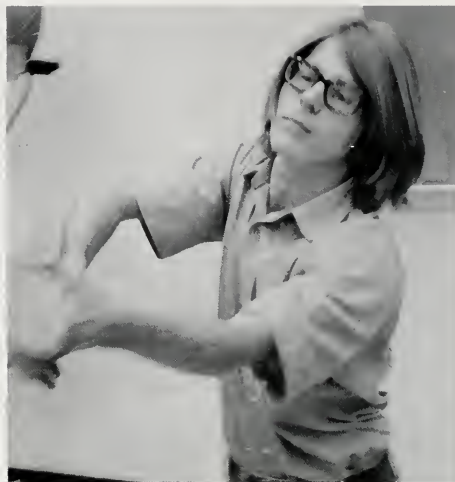

When you put these two words together, you come up with a dedicated group of journalists out hustling for the latest news. Quill and Scroll is an international society for high school students who are selected at Hellgate on the basis of work on the Lance, Halberd, and Troubadour staffs. A qualifier must also be in the top one-third of this class and be recommended by the advisor to the school publications.

Five persons, Robin Bulman, Jean Carter, Claudia Griffing, Morgan Hart and Keith Swart earned the necessary 250 points towards attaining the highest status of membership—the "ruby" level of achievement in National Forensics League. NFL is an honorary organization which promotes high school speech activities. Points are accumulated through speech competition, corresponding with the achievement of the speakers. By earning a minimum of 25 points, speakers are entitled to membership.

The special annual tournament for NFL members was in Havre. Speakers were involved in several categories of speech including student congress, expository, original oratory, impromptu, oral interpretation, debate and extemporaneous speaking.

National Merit Semi-finalists

Don Gisselbeck, Laure Pengelly, and Eric Pfeiffer have conquered the percentile which qualifies them as National Merit Semi-Finalists this year. Juniors are given the opportunity of earning scholarships and recommendation by taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The test is taken by more than a million students across the country and about 1 per cent of these students are selected as Semi-finalists.

These persons thus earned the chance to become Finalists and receive more valuable awards.

Four other Hellgaters deserve special mention for their efforts on the test though they missed the cut-off percentile by a small margin. They are National Merit Commended Students Paul Beaufait, Lee Cheatham, Mike Johnson and Craig Wingate.

These persons were eligible for further state, regional and national awards and scholarships.

Junior Miss

By possessing creative talent, a good scholastic record, youth fitness, poise and the ability to wow her interviewers, Linda Peterson became the Missoula Junior Miss of 1972. Blonde, blue-eyed Linda received $225 in scholarships and savings bonds in addition to gifts from local merchants. She also received $100 toward costs of participating in the state-wide competition.

Ginger Good, another blonde, made a clean sweep of the first runner-up, Spirit of Junior Miss, and Talent award titles. Carol Holden was third runner-up and the Scholastic Award winner.

All-Northwest Musicians

Nine musicians from Hellgate, with rigorous and diligent practice—along with talent—were selected as All-Northwest participants. The qualifiers for band were Barb Koostra and Vicki Johnson. In chorus Mary Burt, Chris Giere, Kevin Hartse and Kathy Roemer represented Hellgate. Orchestra participants were Martha Ballard, Cindy Herbig and Debbie Pitts. Taped audition was the basis for selection and more than 4,000 student musicians auditioned; about 800 made it. The All-Northwest members performed for the biennial meeting of the Northwest Division, Music Educators National Conference at Portland, Ore.

Curriculum Committee, once a Student Council experiment, emerged fully independent as one of Hellgate's new organizations.

Opened to all students willing to come—and work—Curriculum Committee studied many aspects of the school's curriculum. Members sat in on department meetings to hear what teachers wanted. They listened to the ideas of students, then got together and drafted suggestions for changes in the school's curriculum to present to the administration.

Curriculum Committee didn't stop there. If it's suggestion was adopted, they would review it, to see if it was an effective change.

Members discussed plans for a nine-period school day, talked about revisions for the English curriculum and reviewed programs such as the freshman careers course and driver education.

Hellgate students are provided with a voice in the quality of their classes, a luxury that few schools provide.

Ringleaders

Student Council changed student life in '73.

The student government was made up of representatives from every class. One of the first changes was a rotating meeting schedule, which enabled more members to attend the meetings.

During the school year, Student Council planned a joint (K)nighttime homecoming parade and pep rally at Bonner Park with Sentinel. The actions seemed to improve relations with those kids from the "other side of town".

Other projects planned were a Student Council sponsored bus trip (and picnic) to Kalispell for a football game and a student exchange program. A Winter carnival, the removal of the "H" on Mt. Jumbo and the building of a mall on Eddy Avenue (depending on the city's plan to close the block) were discussed.

When litter threatened a source of income for Student Council funds, an anti-litter campaign was started to hopefully get rid of the garbage in the halls and re-open the vending machines.

"We Build" was the 1973 motto of Key Club. Its purpose was to be of help to the community and just to be with the guys.

The club members played a 24-hour basketball game against the Sentinel Key Club members and had a "leg contest" to earn money for Lorie Johnson who had leukemia. Key Club sponsored a Sadie Hawkins dance and participated in an assembly skit with the Pep Club.

One future plan discussed by Key Club members was to include more students to reach a more outstanding potential in community service.

It was suggested to merge with "S" Club, a Girls' service club, into a "Keyettes Club." The clubs would have their separate meetings, but would join for more beneficial and varied projects.

A look of friendly tolerance on his face, Mark Susen coolly asked prospective members, "Do you deserve Key Club or does Key Club deserve you?"

Doug McDonald and Gil Larson selling the everlasting Knight Life.

With a score of 1,948 to 1,900 and Sentinel in the lead, the 24-hour basketball game was played by Mike Gaub and others. In the end no one lost because someone was helped.

Regular meetings discussed new and old projects such as collecting money for the March of Dimes, recycling cans from the cafeteria and the members' choice of tearing or building up the "H" on Mt. Jumbo. "S" Club is sponsored by the Soroptimists, a women's group. Soroptimist members attend the initiation of new members and special meetings.

Generally "S" Club brought girls together to share their ideas and opinions and channel some of their energy into a community effort.

Mat Maids is an organization added to increase interest in the wrestling squad. The main policy is to encourage students to be active supporters of the wrestling program.

Plans for the 1972-73 year were to sponsor a $50 scholarship for a senior varsity wrestler, and to sponsor an annual Powder Puff Wrestling Match.

They served as hostesses at all tournaments, kept score at all Frosh and Junior meets and provided the school spirit. Hellgate showed throughout the year.

Head Wrestling Coach Lanny Bryant said the girls did a great job in supporting the wrestlers, considering that it was a brand new organization. He said he was proud of their work.

Lettermen's Club

The Lettermns Club is sort of a dual purpose organization. It is honorary by nature of the qualifications for membership, and service-oriented by direction of its constitution.

The Lettermens Club is pledged to perform duties that aid and promote the spirit and welfare of the athletic programs at Hellgate. To be a member, a young man must be a varsity athletic award winner.

Fund raising activities used to offset the costs of athletic-affiliated expenses are often run by the club members.

Some fund raising activities include athletic program ad sales, selling programs at games and operating pop and popcorn concession stands at basketball games and wrestling matches. The money made possible the purchase of a movie projector, helped defray the cost of filming games and allowed the purchasing of individual trophies and the bettering of trophies already won by Hellgate athletic teams.

The club will assume the sponsorship of the "Chuck Peck" Track Award, in remembrance and honor of the late Charles R. Peck. It will be awarded annually to the young man selected as the outstanding track and field athlete.

Cheerleaders united to set the pace of the crowd for a live undercurrent of excitement that rippled and flowed throughout the games.

Above all, the 1972-73 year was noted for the high rush of school spirit. When the Hellgate fight song was played by the Hellraisers, the pep band, the student body gave animated and aroused support.

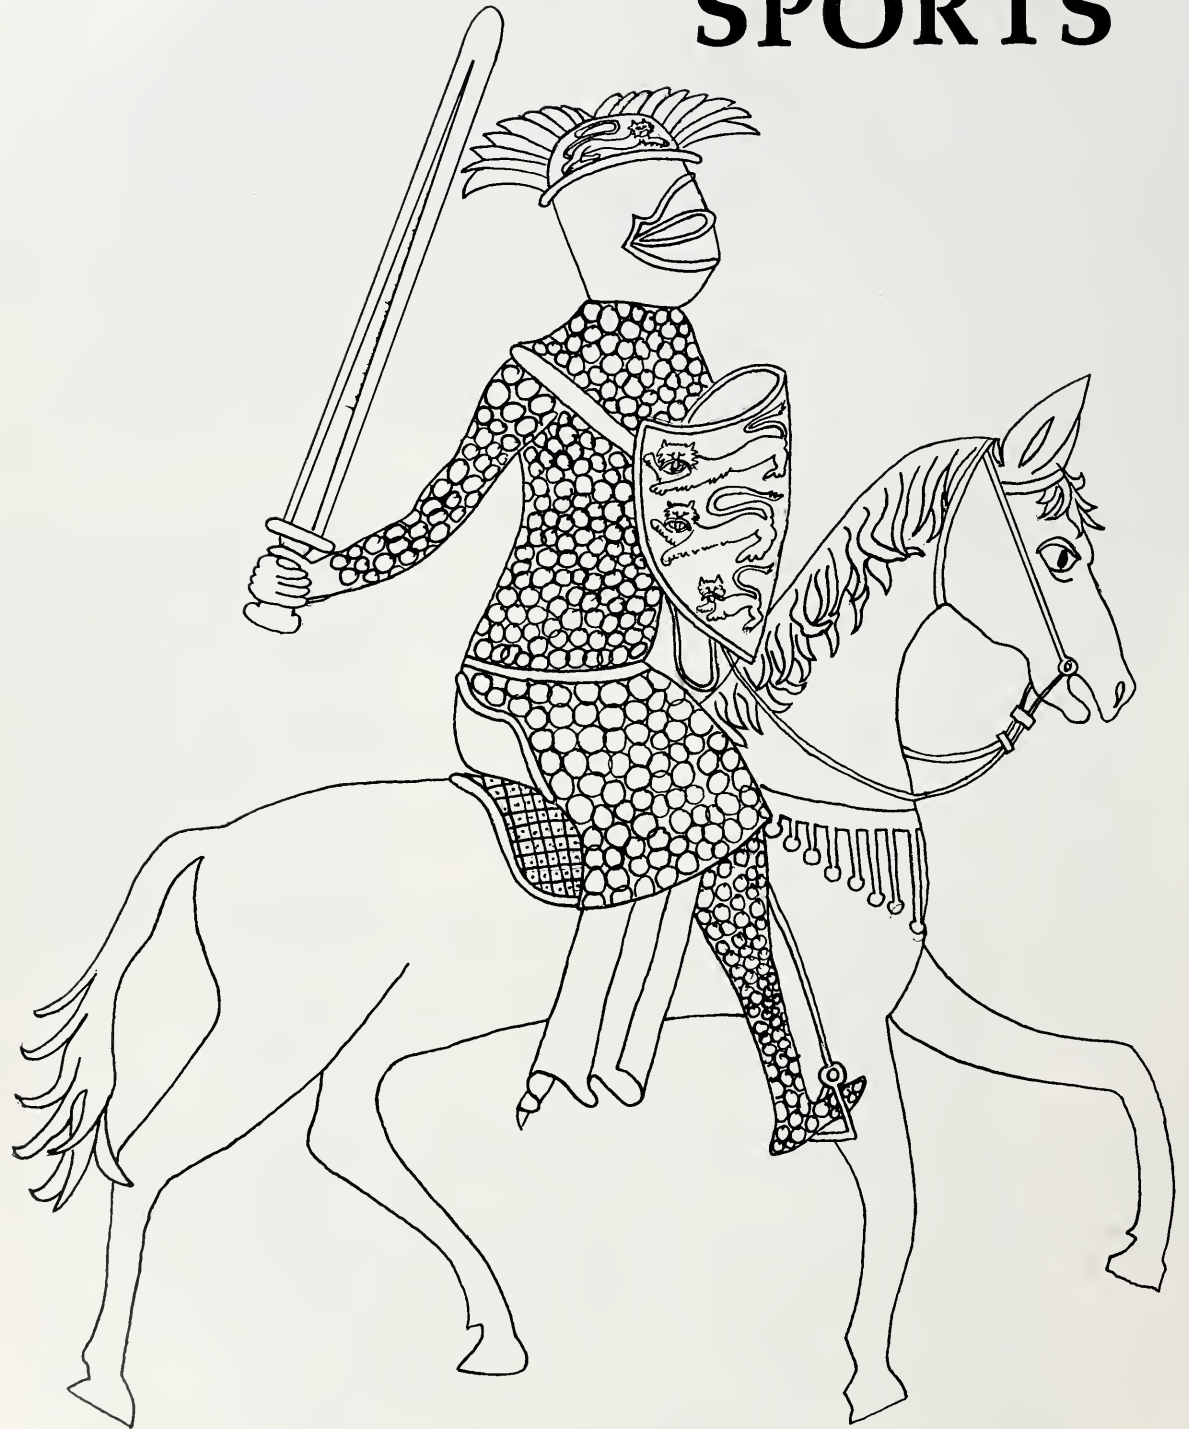

Once when the cheerleaders broke out with "We're the Knights, and we're proud," in the back bleachers a short-lived, but messy squabble went on during which all near-by persons were sprayed with mustard.

The season was satisfying in spite of disappointing losses to five teams. The Knights fought from ninth place to fifth place in the power ratings during the season.

All-State honors were awarded to Les Ryan, Mike Sloan and Gary Manchester. Craig Fedore and Mike Steinberg received honorable mentions for their efforts.

The 1972 Knights chose Les Ryan as the Most Valuable Player, Mark Malcolm as Outstanding Offensive Back, Mike Sloan as Outstanding Offensive and Defensive Lineman, Don Morgan as Outstanding Defensive Back and Mike Steinberg as the Most Improved Player.

Although the Squires lost three games, the gridders trampled the Sentinel Spears 12-0. Pride and power in the defensive and offensive units gave the team a satisfying record.

Is it Coach Ron Jones or an odd-shaped brick?

The 1972 Freshman Gold football team brought a great deal of satisfaction to Coach Ron Jones when the squad established a 2-3-1 season. Jones said that the Golds played hard and strong.

Tougher than tungsten, Coach Glen Harper.

The big thrill of the season was when the team played Kalispell in a game which was described as a "snow battle." The experience of running plays on the snow-blanketed field ended in a 6-6 tie.

This year the Freshman Red football team, under the coaching of Mr. Glen Harper, came through with a 2-3-1 record.

Even though the Reds didn't have a spectacular season, the team possessed winning spirit and Hellgate pride. As Coach Harper put it, the 20 gridders showed desire, and promise, and really wanted to play ball.

Wes Brumwell tips it to a Knight.

Although the Knights started out as inexperienced ball players, they matured through the season and came a long way as a team. Coach Russ Sheriff was pleased with the improvement shown. He said the Knights played well and to their maximum ability and the players on the bench did a very good job of filling the shoes of the starters in the divisional tournament games at Butte.

Hellgate will be graduating nine senior basketball players who have shown leadership when things were not going well on the court.

The Junior Varsity basketball team, under the direction of coach Tom Demmons, closed the season with a win-loss record of 8-10.

Confident of his team's ability, Coach Demmons said that "with a year's growth and more experience" the boys should be ready for varsity ball.

Under the patient supervision of Coach Richard Dunn, the Sophomore basketball team wrapped up its season with an 11-6 record. The team's drive combined with Coach Dunn's admirable direction enabled the Squires to acquire a winning record this season.

Mr. Demmons said the round-ballers showed definite improvement and "towards the end of the season they played better ball as a team."

Coach Dunn employed a fast-paced game strategy throughout the season. In doing this the Squires were able to outmaneuver their opponents en route to their 11 victories.

Throughout the season, Coach Demmons used a strategy that was based on good defense and ball control.

Coach Demmons cited their second loss to Sentinel and their victory over Drummond Varsity as the team's best performances.

This year both freshman basketball teams came through the season with outstanding records. Jim Heydon, coach of the Gold team, brought his squad to end the season with a 15-1 record. Coach Russ Pilcher, of the Red team, closed the season with an impressive record of 13-4.

Varsity Wrestlers

The 1972-73 Knight matmen were headed by a new coach, Lanny Bryant. He built the squad out of young wrestlers and established a 2-14 record for this season. The outstanding wrestlers for the season were 105-pound Gus Campbell who went undefeated with a 16-0-1 record and Mike Sloan wrestling at 188 pounds who went to the state semifinals, where he was decided by one point. Mike's seasonal record was 16-3. These inexperienced grapplers will develop in the coming year with more strength and know-how.

Senior Mike Sloan was the first Hellgate wrestler to qualify for state finals in four years. The 185-pound grappler downed Bruce Wilhelm of C.M. Russell 10-4 in the semi-final match. Mike placed second in state competition.

The 1972-73 Junior Varsity wrestlers consisted mostly of sophomores with some freshmen. The young matmen were good skill-wise but the lack of experience held them back when going against those who had wrestled longer. These wrestlers will be better with more experience and will make an excellent contribution to the varsity next year.

Larry Bicha was the freshman wrestling coach this year. His eager wrestlers finished the season with a 5-5 record. They were not strong as a team, but strong individually. They will do well in the future with the potential they possess.

The girls Cross Country team had no outstanding meets, but the girls did possess stupendous spirit. The 1972 runners know well what the cross-country racer feels—the burning, near bursting lungs, the paralyzed legs that somehow remain mobile enough to pass the finish line, and the sensation of super-human effort. The 1972 runners won fifth at the state meet in Helena.

Belinda McDonald and Kathy Nyquist, Hellgate's best runners, battled for top places throughout the season. Belinda ran an 8:34 to capture third place in state competition. All eight of the varsity runners were winners in practice. Isn't that where it all begins?

Pride, determination and an outstanding coach led Hellgate's cross country team to the number one spot in the state. The fleet-footed Knights went undefeated during the 1972 season.

The varsity squad won all nine meets, including state, by large margins. Hellgate varsity runners swept the first six places, a perfect score, at the Sentinel meet.

The junior varsity team had a winning season also. The squad ran perfect scores at the Sentinel meet, the Bozeman meet and the Hellgate-Kalispell-Sentinel Triangular meet.

A state trophy was the reward for the rigorous training and undying passion of the 24 runners to win.

The girls' gymnastics team placed sixth in the Great Falls meet, which involved the state's top 10 schools, and seventh in the state meet in Billings in which four girls represented Hellgate.

Mrs. Susan Hanson, seven-year veteran as a gymnastics coach, said the only time the team lost to Sentinel was when a lot of the girls were sick. She hopes to produce a state champion team within two years.

Senior Bobi Wambach and sophomores Jackie Cheatham, Sheena Veitenheimer and Melinda Wolfe qualified for state competition by placing in the top 10 in individual events at the divisional meet in Butte. Abra Pelkey, the all-around girl, did an outstanding job this year but due to sickness was unable to attend the state meet.

"I feel they did a great job and are becoming excellent gymnasts," Coach Hanson said about the young and advancing team.

Boys Gymnastics

This year the Knight gymnasts, coached by Jim Miller, were third in the state, which is the highest achievement yet for a Hellgate squad. Nine Knight qualifiers for the state meet, were seniors Paul Beaufait, Don Morgan, Dennis Morse, Dave Stang and Bryan Dauenhauer; juniors Bill Murray and Kelly Crisp; sophomore Shaun McAdams, and freshman John Gogas.

Outstanding gymnasts were Beaufait, who totaled 72 points for the season; Stang, who finished second in the side horse event at state and Morgan, who demonstrated his fine qualities in his events throughout the year. Next year Coach Miller has hopes of a higher team finish in the state meet.

Hellgate's two-year-old intramural program included over 1,162 students compared to 836 participants the first year, said Advisor Ron Jones, the program offered a sport for everyone.

Advisors Jones and Vicki Randall offered bowling, wrestling, skiing, basketball, volleyball, table tennis, flag football, track, golf, swimming, weight lifting, horse shoes and tennis to students that may not otherwise have participated in sports activities. Students responded to the growing program, but skiing was a failure. Missoula's mild winter made the skiing program impossible although 168 boys and girls had signed up.

Students have made suggestions for additions to the program, Mr. Jones said. Judo, self-defense, archery, fencing, ice hockey, badminton and overnight hiking trips may be some of the new opportunities offered next year.

Swim Team

Despite lack of recognition and hard work, the five member swim team stroked through practices and into a fifth place finish in the boys medley relay race this season.

The only girl on the squad, Beth Ammons, broke the record in the 100-meter free style.

Doug Ammons, Beth's brother, broke the 200-meter free style record while brother Bruce placed second in both the 100-meter butterfly and the 400-meter free style.

Bruce, Doug, Neil Pelkey and Ken Woolston placed fifth as a team in the boys medley relay.

The Ammons stars said discipline during practice is one important key to being a good swimmer and that if a person will just push himself a little farther each time he will do well during competition.

Lyric poets and poet-musicians of the 11th through 13th centuries chiefly in southern France were referred to as troubadours. And so the artistic literary magazine sang its songs to the student body.

The staff is chosen by advisors Pearl Felker and Ellen Skones. Any student may submit his work, but only those showing artistic and literary superiority are published in the magazine.

The student's efforts first go to a reader, who rates each work with a plus or minus grade. The work is then sent to editors to be reviewed. Only submissions passing these inspections are published in the Troubadour.

Troubadour

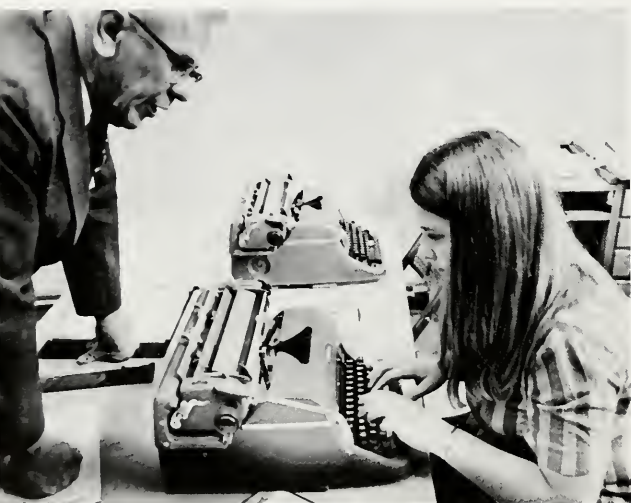

Assistant editor John Blanchette looks for new ideas as editor Paul Crowley and assistant editor Laure Pengelly discuss the Troubadour.

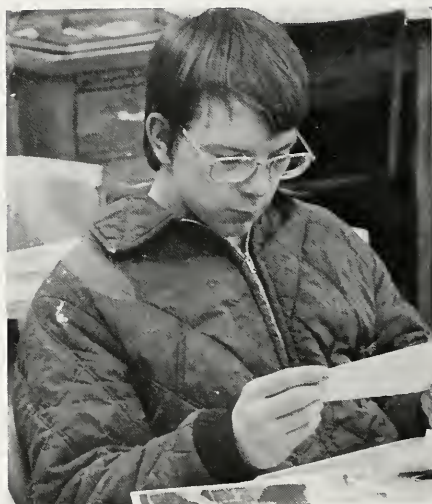

The harsh, thunderous voice of the dreaded Mr. Forssen could be heard all hours of the day bellowing "BLAH, BLAH, BLAH,!!!" with a diligent, hardworking student retorting in a meek, barely audible voice "blah, blah, blah." This scene was re-enacted daily 7th period during Halberd class. Staff members discovered there was more to putting out a yearbook than sitting around for 40 minutes every day. The staffers worked hard selling yearbooks for 5 weeks in September and October. As an added incentive a free Ecology button was given with the purchase of every Halberd. Besides selling books the Halberd Staff sold Halloween candy to insure this year's Halberd as being the best ever.

Halberd

With the money in hand a yearbook was in the making. Editor Linda Robbins spent a few days teaching inexperienced students the fundamentals of producing a yearbook. Layout, cropping, and copy were a few of the basics introduced to new members. By the end of the year all Halberd staffers were skilled in yearbook techniques and ecstatic about the year's end.

Manned by a staff of talented, doughnut-eating journalists, the Lance was published every other week and distributed 6th period.

The devoted journalists worked long, hard hours (sometimes after school) to send the copy to the printers. By showing such interest in the publication of the paper, the writers acquired not only headaches but actual experiences in the field of newspaper work and the doughnut tradition.

The doughnut tradition started at Hellgate when one of the first Lance staffs had to work overtime.

A soft-hearted person (whose initials are John A. Forssen) bought stale doughnuts for the staff to nibble on while they worked. From then on it has been a favorite Lance staff pastime.

Scenic beauty surrounds president Craig Amrine as he pauses from his skiing schedule.

Contrary to popular belief, Ski Club was not comprised of a bunch of dope-slopers. Ski Club members range from the hot dogger to the bunny hill stumble bum.

More than 60 students joined ski club, electing Craig Amrine as president; Lynn Evenson as vice president, and Ethan Bier as secretary-treasurer.

Members planned for their big ski excursion to Grand Targhee Ski Resort in the Teton Mountains of Wyoming.

The cost of their trip was $1000. To raise the money, members had a pop bottle drive, sold season tickets for Marshall, and gave a helping hand to the management of Marshall.

Chess Club

The international secret as to why Bobby Fischer defeated Boris Spassky was revealed at the Chess Club meetings. This gilded tournament of kings increased the membership from 8 or 10 students in previous years to an astounding 40 members. Emulating the professionals, Hell-gaters conducted continuous ladder tournaments. Students and teachers could be seen 7th period, and after school contemplating each other's ruin. A new activity of Chess Club was to teach chess to all students wanting to learn. Matches with Sentinel and the University were planned for later in the year. Two ideas of new Advisor Tom Graff were to have faculty competition and to attend out-of-town tournaments.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America

Equipment for the Special Education Department was constructed by the Hellgate Chapter of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. This community service project was financed by the collection of profits from the pop machine in the annex. Because the club didn't have enough expenses, the excess capital was donated to various activities in need.

Drafting, carpentry, welding, auto mechanics and small engine repair are the skills developed by VICA. This club is open to every student enrolled in vocational classes. VICA began its activities in early November with a statewide leadership development in Helena. VICA planned to travel in April to Havre for the state convention where the members could exhibit their year-long efforts.

Through rain, sleet, snow, hail, fog, sun and cheering crowds, the 1,000-miler must run on! A 1,000 Mile Club runner had many chances to prove this motto due to Missoula's mercurial climate. Running 1,000 miles was the one and only objective of the club. Art Brammer, Wally Brown and Mike Rasmussen were the only members to achieve the ultimate goal this year. As a change of pace, the 1,000 Mile Club sponsored a five-mile marathon in October. The club had no regular meeting time, but the members logged their miles on a group chart each week. This was based on an honor system.

Dale Golden attended the Western Regional Leadership Conference in Denver. She was Missoula's only representative.

Attired in pink formals and red jackets, members of the Concert Band struck melodious tones which appealed to the ears of eager listeners on four occasions in 1972-73.

Every fifth period, the musicians could be heard practicing to further develop their musical talents.

Playing music of all types, the band was directed by Mr. Charles H. Johnson or at times by Kevin Hatrse.

The members also planned their annual spring trip to Moosejaw, Alberta.

To earn the necessary $1,500, band members sold Christmas records, Easter eggs and baked goods.

Marching Band

Seven trombones were in the Hellgate Marching Knights band with four very important sousaphones right by. They were followed by rows and rows of Hellgate musicians under the direction of Mr. Charles Johnson. Their popular music goes on and on and on.

Marching Knights played and marched before and at halftimes of football games. They also helped to keep the spirit of players and fans high. Half-way through the season members got new scarlet blazers and black pants.

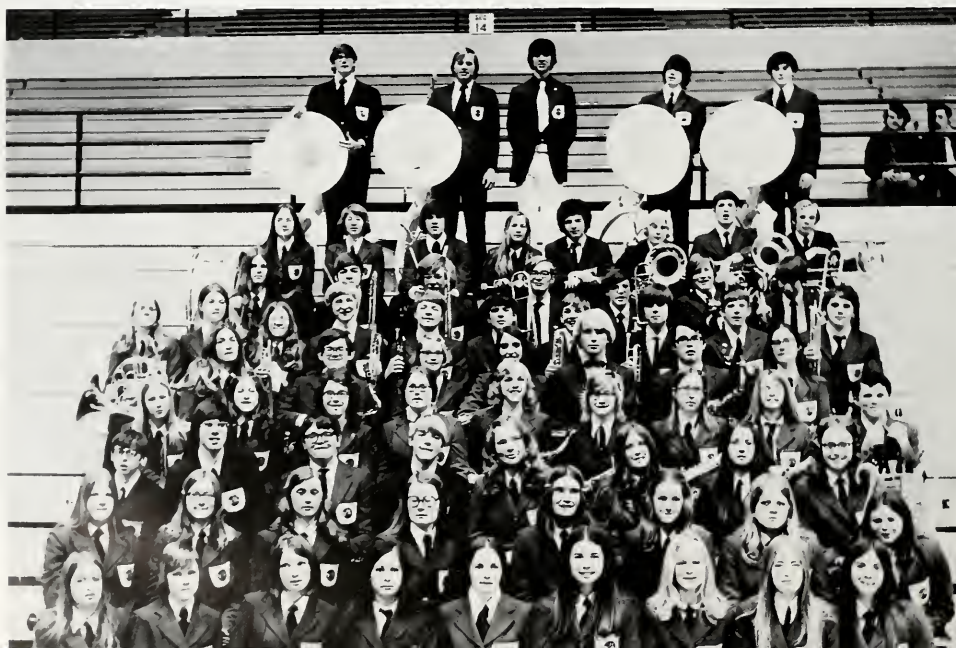

The band's only trip this year was to play for the football game in Kalispell. Three busloads went for the game, having lunch at a restaurant that was "pretty bad" according to a gourmet clarinetist.

Besides acquiring the finer points of speedy bus evacuation, the members of Hellgate's team learned to present a polished performance before an audience. Advisors Virgil Cork and Donald Wulff helped develop the excellence that is essential to Hellgate's notable drama tradition of three state championships in the last four years. Throughout the year students placed in all events of competition.

The regular team members and other interested students looked forward to the presentation of two student directed plays, "T.V." and "The Picture" in early January. The team also planned to present "Evening at the Theatre", a collection of the year's outstanding cuttings in drama competition.

Drama Team

Cindy Biggerstaff and Kathy Salmonson are up at 3 a.m. to trudge onward to the Eureka meet.

Speech Team

Whether debating the issue of federal funding for secondary education, speaking against a house bill on abortion or reading "The Littlest Angel", being a member of the speech team was clearly difficult. Working from nine a.m. to five p.m. on Saturdays and seven p.m. to ten p.m. Monday through Thursday nights was not uncommon for Hellgate's industrious debating squad. All efforts paid off with the thrill of victory, exuberant smiles and the knowledge of being the best.

Advisors Susan Rowberry and Patricia Knierim, with a little help from their friends, coached all members to the degree of oratorical skill required in stiff speech competition.

The speech team improved greatly from previous years, with participants placing in every event at every tournament.

Hellgate had the privilege of being host to the state speech and drama meet at the close of the competition year.

The Future Homemakers of America organization strives toward individual development of members and achieving the personal goals set by each girl.

To accomplish these objectives, members of Hellgate's chapter attended district, state and national meetings. This year Hellgate's Karen Kruckeberg was appointed secretary at the district meeting in Corvallis. The group looked forward to the state meeting in March at Billings. To finance these trips FHA sold cookbooks.

In the fall, members of the club visited an Opportunity School workshop.

As a service project the group sang Christmas carols at local rest homes. Afterwards the girls trooped back to Hellgate for a homemade chili supper. Other service projects were planned for later in the year.

State OEA President Patty Merseal flashes her pearly whites.

Improving accuracy in typing, shorthand and other office skills for state competition was the main objective of OEA. Hellgate's Patty Merseal was local and state OEA president.

OEA money-making projects included selling glitter plaques and candy. Members also had several bake sales. The money was used for sending the girls to state meets and possibly to the district meet in Albuquerque, N.M.

Other activities of the club were a Christmas Banquet and building a homecoming float. The girls also sent a newsletter to other OEA clubs in the state.

Model United Nations

Cuba, Egypt, France, New Zealand and Chile were Hellgate's chosen Model UN countries for 1972-73. Delegations researched their "countries" and wrote bills that would be beneficial to their country's needs. In caucus the bills were amended and in committee they were debated.

Model United Nations' objectives are to provide a student an in-depth study on a foreign country and to feel the frustrations and advantages of being a native of that country. From their research students determine how their country will act in a given situation.

MUN was Planned for the University of Montana on April 12, 13, and 14. Delegates from thirty schools were expected to attend. Committee heads and pages were University students with experience in the University MUN Chapter.

Zzzzap! A tingling sensation could be felt as a fellow AFSer touched another member with the static electricity he had picked up from the carpet. This type of fun could be experienced the first and third Tuesday of every month in Room 310.

The American Field Service (AFS) club supported many money-making enterprises. Some of these endeavors were selling doughnuts, cook books, and Christmas cards. AFS sponsored the Homecoming dance with members selling delicious delicacies.

The airlines from Missoula to Italy have been kept busy flying Hellgate's AFS student Page Goode, to Venezia Lido, Italy, and Cristina Praz from Saint Vincent, Italy, to join Hellgate's student body.

German Club

Entertaining at the International Christmas Party with such oddities as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "The Traveling Scholar from Paradise" were the talented members of German Club, more affectionately known as Hollische Rathaus Gruppe. In English, this German phrase means Hellish City Council Group.

Besides entertaining themselves with children's antics, club members found time to collaborate with Sentinel "Germans" for a German Supper. Hellgate and Sentinel German Clubs also planned a joint Fasching dance (carnival) for latter in the year.

Hellgate planned to participate in a weekend German Camp at the Tamarack Resort on Seeley Lake.

Hollische Rathaus Gruppe also planned to take part in Hellgate's International Spring Banquet.

French clubbers lethargically singing for a crowd of "foreigners."

Having fun and learning various aspects of French living were the objectives of French Club.

Its major activity was the International Banquet planned for Spring. A good dinner and lively entertainment were promised for the annual spring event.

At Halloween all the French people got together for an evening of ghostly apparitions and getting to know one another.

As a learning project the French clubbers were taught how to prepare delicious crepes suzette. They were also shown all the special utensils of French cuisine.

The international Christmas party was another occasion of good times. A joint Sentinel-Hellgate Mardi Gras was planned for later in the year.

Spanish Club

The 63rd anniversary of the Mexican Revolution was planned to be remembered with a special party by Spanish Club.

Members also busied themselves with the homecoming float that took first prize in the float division.

The theme of the float was Let's Put Out Their Fire, referring to the Mustang Football team. On the float was a washtub on top of a table and a fire hose attached to the basin. A student dressed as fireman was spraying a club member resembling a mustang, behind the truck.

Another activity planned by the club was a dinner with Spanish-speaking Hellgaters and University Latin Americans.

Annual Spanish Club events included the International Christmas party and Spring Banquet. Also the club planned a dinner for Spanish clubbers exclusively.

Being invited to the International Christmas Party for the first time was a red-letter day on Latin Club's calendar. Roman entertainment for the evening was reading in Latin a Bible verse and then repeating the English translation. Latin Club provided oranges, apples and assorted nuts for its part of refreshments.

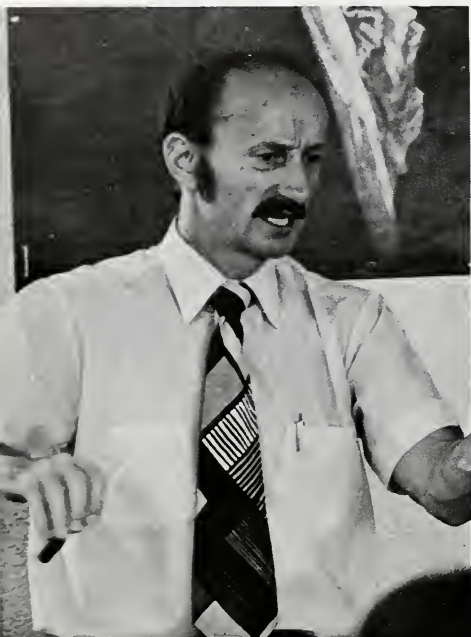

The annual Roman Banquet was planned for spring. Keeping with ancient Roman tradition, a dinner of chicken, nuts, and fruits was served by "slaves" to reclining students attired in togas and sandals.

Bake sales were planned throughout the year to finance the banquet.

In the spirit of good fun, Latin clubbers got together for a pizza party in December.

Bringing forth shimmering vibrations from their instruments, the members of orchestra succeeded in providing their audiences with pleasing and relaxing entertainment. Through participation in the Class AA Orchestra Festival in Billings, and the Christmas assembly, the musicians showed their importance to school life.

To be in orchestra requires ability and skill gained through many hours of practice, a sincere desire to develop technique and an enthusiastic effort to please all.

Orchestra accompanied the Concert Choir in the "Requiem" by Johannes Brahms at the spring concert.

Members met 2nd periods and on Monday nights when they combined with Sentinel's Orchestra to form the Missoula Youth Symphony.

Lancettes

Lancettes is probably the hardest working group at Hellgate. Besides practicing every 7th period and for two hours Monday and Wednesday evenings, Lancettes found time to usher for many of Hellgate's functions.

The girls had to pay $50 each for their costumes. Members earned over $3,000 by participating in candy, rummage and bake sales.

Lancettes performed during basketball and football halftime shows and assemblies. The girls also were color guards for assemblies and various sports activities.

A state competition meet for Montana's dance groups was planned in Glendive. During summer breaks many Lancettes attended workshops.

Tuesday nights on third floor that group of girls traipsing around in their long-johns comprise the Modern Dance terpsichoreans. And they aren't in their long-johns; they're in tights.

Modern Dance was formed to replace the disbanded Orchesis. The girls work hard perfecting techniques and composing dances. At the Hellgate-Sentinel assembly, members wowed the crowd by imitating the Knights. Members also entertained the student body at the Christmas assembly with two modern dance routines.

Twirlers

Strutting proudly in front of the Marching Band at parades and football halftime shows were Hellgate's scarlet-sequined twirlers.

Being able to toss a baton up in the air, gracefully catch it and continue twirling doesn't come easy. The five girls worked every fifth period and Wednesday night sharpening their abilities.

Throughout the year the twirlers sold records and candy and had bake sales in order to buy their stunning scarlet outfits and white boots.

Gaining an insight into music and strengthening voices were the main goals of the Freshman Choir and Girls Choirs.

Being a frosh was the only requirement of the Freshman Choir. Once in, any member could try out for the Freshman Mixed Ensemble or Girls Ensemble (depending on you know what).

Girls Choir was also non-select. The girls practiced every sixth period.

Freshman and Girls Choirs gave experience to members. These choirs were set up with the hope that their members would continue with music and go into Concert Choir, maybe even Mynstrelles or Chevaliers.

The melodious voices of the Mynstrelles were heard at several school and public functions during the year. Clad in festive lime-green costumes, Mynstrelles brought happiness to enthusiastic crowds. The select vocal ensemble was formed to improve the reading and singing abilities of its members. Mynstrelles also gives members training in hope that someday they may become Chevaliers. Comprising the group were Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen. They practiced for two hours on Monday nights adding to their repertoire several songs.

Thunderous applause was heard as the Chevaliers came on stage at the Christmas Concert; the reputation of the silver-throated singers had preceded them.

Auditions for Chevaliers were in September and those showing vocal excellence were chosen. Vocal Music Director Neil Dahlstrom said his decision was hard because many good students turned out. In addition to the 24 members and pianist, Mr. Dahlstrom added a drummer and two more singing members.

Chevaliers were much in demand in and out of Missoula. Besides singing for the people of the Garden City, Chevaliers sang for the patients at the veteran hospital Fort Harrison near Helena and in Great Falls during the class AA state festival.

The Chevaliers' goal this year was to bring pleasure and peace to all their audiences, and by the ecstatic faces of the audiences, the Chevaliers achieved their goal.

THE BIG CHEESE

Students:

Once again the young people pictured in the Halberd have distinguished themselves as citizens of Hellgate High School and of the City of Missoula. Hellgate continues to be a leader in the state of curricular and extracurricular endeavors. It is indeed a pleasure to be able to work with and for such a fine student body as we have at Hellgate. I hope that you seniors have had a productive four years at Hellgate and that your school has helped prepare you for the many challenges you will face in the coming years. It is also my hope that you students who are still with us will strive to take advantage of every opportunity available to you at Hellgate.

SHAKE SPEARE

All the world's a stage
And all the men and women merely players:
They have their exits
and entrances.
—"As You Like It"

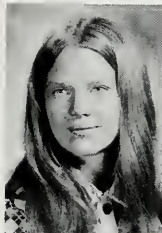

But how I caught it,
Found it, came by it
What stuff 'tis made of,
Whereof it is born,
I am to learn.
